CLIMATOBURST IN THIS COMMUNITY CAUSES DAMAGE

IT WAS DELUGED WITH HEAVIEST RAINFALL IN ITS HISTORY

Greencastle had the heaviest rain in its history from Saturday midnight until about nine Sunday morning. The rain gauge registered 5.78 inches of water and the report of Grafton Longden, Jr., meteorologist, said that the heaviest rain began falling shortly after midnight and came down in torrents. One woman reported that four gallon bucket completely filled at her house, while others reported all of open vessels filled completely by the rainstorm.

Thousands of acres of growing corn were submerged throughout Sunday and just much damage will be done to the crop. It is foretold for some time, however, this damage will be repaired.

Fields near the smaller roads all suffered from the floods that took down trees and carried debris to all areas which it covered. Telephone and electric light lines were down at many points, as rural lines, some of them, were out all day.

Traffic to and from the flood-stricken areas was heavy throughout the day, as sight-seers visited the spots where the water was highest. This was especially true at the water works pumping station where hundreds of people gathered to see the water being pumped out during the day.

Water was poured into the water also to help purify the residents using city water. They were asked to boil it before drinking as a precautionary measure.

South of Greencastle state road 43 was blocked at Deet by flood waters and the bridge at the airport on the road went out during the night.

The roads out of Greencastle, except the east road at time early in the day were closed. The west road was closed by Big Walnut creek.

The covered bridge, the Dunbar bridge road was cut off by the 10 to 15 feet of water; the bridge road was likewise cut off by water; the Houch bridge between road 43 and the bridge was blocked by water.

Thousands of basements in the city had from a few inches to several feet of water in them during the hours of Sunday morning. The street department had many calls for help from this source.

Many old timers said the water was higher than during the famous 1913 flood. It certainly was higher than it has been at any time since 1913.

During the 1913 flood, the rains covered a period of a week, while this time it fell over a period of two days. Also in 1913 the north side of the water works bridge did not have water under it while this time the water reached from

Dying Girl, 5, Given Big Party

PASCAGOULA, Miss., June 23 (UP)—Dying Paulette Spicer, 5, today was happy with memories of the "birthday" party a whole town gave her, although the big, beautiful doll she wanted did not arrive.

Three scores of persons including playmates and even strangers showered Paulette with gifts yesterday without letting her know it was not her real birthday and that she has little time to play with her toys.

Paulette, already robbed of her voice by cancer of the throat and wasted to a pitiful 17 pounds, was happy with assurances that the doll, gift of an out of town admirer, was on its way.

Paulette, winner of three beauty contests for children before she was 4, smiled for the first time in weeks when about 60 persons brought in loads of gifts, sang "Happy Birthday," and cut an 18-pound cake.

"Everybody tried to smile and pretend like they were having a good time," said Mrs. Mae Matthews, Paulette's grandmother, "but every once in a while somebody would have to go in the next room and cry. She is such a beautiful child."

Doctors were afraid she would not live until August 17, the birthday she has been looking forward to, and practically the whole town helped out when the word got around that the Spicers were slipping a few pages off the calendar.

"The end may come any minute now," said Mrs. Charles Howard Spicer, wife of an unemployed oil field worker. "Her life is between her and the Lord."

Mrs. Spicer said that when the party finally ended and Paulette realized the doll had not arrived in time she cried bitterly. She was tired, but she said she had a happy little girl.

UN Surprise By Malik's Action

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., June 23 (UP)—Soviet delegate Jacob A. Malik surprised the United Nations Security Council today by giving a U. S. proposal for a germ warfare inquiry top spot on the agenda.

Malik's sudden about-face caught most delegates on the 11-nation council off base. They had expected him to put the hot proposal in a diplomatic deep freeze during his month-long term as council president.

Observers said Malik's aides began circulating today's proposed agenda among delegates yesterday.

Malik's plan would limit debate, beginning at 3 p. m., solely to the United States' demand for an impartial international Red Cross inquiry into repeated Soviet charges that U. S. troops had waged bacterial warfare in Korea.

Ex-MacArthur Aide For Ike

ASHEVILLE, N. C., June 23 (UP)—Lt. Gen. Robert L. Eichelberger, former aide to Gen. Douglas MacArthur in Japan, today supported Dwight D. Eisenhower for the Republican presidential nomination.

Eichelberger, in announcing his choice, said MacArthur "has not always considered it a tragic development to elect a military man president."

Referring to MacArthur's support of Sen. Robert A. Taft, Eichelberger recalled that MacArthur was a presidential hopeful himself in both 1944 and 1948.

"In those days he didn't have any objection to a military man becoming president because he wanted to go to the White House himself," Eichelberger said.

"I'm just saying this in light of Gen. MacArthur's recent statement about being against a military man in the White House," he said.

ELKS CLUB FLOODED

Members of the Elks Lodge worked most of Saturday night trying to keep the flood waters from the basement of the Elks Home. At times, it was said to have been several inches deep in the basement.

Senator Kefauver Visits Indiana

CHICAGO, June 23 (UP)—Sen. Estes Kefauver left early today for Indianapolis after calling the battle between Sen. Robert A. Taft and Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower for the Republican presidential nomination a "bar-room slugfest."

The Tennessee Democrat said the GOP struggle "cheapens and degrades the Democratic process," and will be "exploited by Soviet propagandists."

Kefauver called Taft an exponent of "typically Republican reaction" and characterized Eisenhower as a "master of straight from the shoulder generalities."

Earlier the tall presidential hopeful scoffed at charges by Sen. Joseph McCarthy that he had attacked McCarthy to win the support of the "left-wing and Communist controlled elements of the radio and press" in his campaign.

"I was bitterly opposed to McCarthy, his procedure and technique long before I even considered running for the presidency," he said. "I will continue to oppose him in the future."

Eisenhower To Speak Tonight

DENVER, Colo., June 23 (UP)—The active participation of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower in his campaign for the Republican presidential nomination enters its fourth week with signs of a stiff new onslaught against his political foe, Sen. Robert A. Taft.

It is less than a month now that the retired five star general, who commanded one of the greatest military aggregations in the history of warfare, embarked on a campaign considerably alien to his past experiences.

How well he will succeed in reaching his first objective—the GOP presidential nomination—depends not on what has occurred during the first three weeks since he began actively to seek the presidency, but what will take place during the next two critical weeks ahead.

Eisenhower will appear on a nationwide telecast this evening to give a "clear definition" of his foreign policy. Gov. Frank Carlson of Kansas said Eisenhower would make clear how his ideas on international affairs vary from those of Taft.

Local Group At Drama Session

Four local Greencastle High School students left today to attend the fourth National Dramatic Arts Conference June 23-25 at Indiana University.

The delegation, representing the National Thespian Society troupe 1098 installed in the high school two years ago, includes Nancy Lowdermilk, Kay Hinkle, Max Dixon, president and Don Rush, past president and Darwin Stevens, chaplain.

They are to be among almost 1000 delegates from 30 states who are expected to attend the conference sponsored by the National Thespian Society in co-operation with the I. U. theater. Most of the delegates will be high school students and dramatics directors, but there also will be representatives from college, communities and children's theaters.

Principal speakers will be well known stage, radio and TV personalities. Daily Workshops in all phases of the entertainment medium are scheduled along with the presentation of three full length scenes from several other dramas.

While this is the first time Greencastle High School has had a delegation, the National Dramatic Arts Conferences have been held previously on the Bloomington campus in 1941, 1947 and 1949.

7 ARE KILLED IN ACCIDENTS OVER SUNDAY

THREE DROWNINGS OCCUR IN INDIANA DURING PAST TWO DAYS

Death took it easy with motorists on Hoosier highways during the summer's first weekend but struck in various forms of violence.

Only two fatal auto accidents were reported but other accidents took up some of the slack. At least three persons drowned, one was killed in an airplane crash and another died in a fall from an oil well derrick.

State police identified two of the drowning victims at Ideal Beach on Shafer lake as Ray Linn, 27, Indianapolis, and Geo. F. Knight, 29, Sequatchie, Tenn.

Police said Linn and Knight drowned when they were thrown from an outboard motorboat steered by Raymond D. Joyce, 53, Indianapolis. Joyce returned to the two men immediately but they went under before he could help.

William Schiesser, 17, St. John, drowned in a small lake at the Lake county fairgrounds while swimming Sunday.

A 70-foot fall from an oil well derrick five miles south of Vincennes was fatal to Earl Patterson, 32, Mt. Carmel, Ill. A piece of pipe pierced Patterson's chest as he fell. He died a short time later in a Vincennes hospital.

Earl R. Meyer, 37, Chicago, was killed Sunday when the left wing of a single-engine two-passenger plane clipped a tree and sent the plane crashing to the ground on the Gerald Hill farm, just southeast of Portland.

Hill, whom Meyer was visiting, said the plane was about 80 feet in the air when it struck the tree. The plane landed upside down 150 yards away.

Weldon Dean Lassiter, 20, of Warren, was killed Sunday when his auto ran through a dead-end and overturned on a county road nine miles south of Huntington.

Donald Knies, 17, Jasper, was injured fatally Sunday when the car in which he was riding struck a tree along Ind. 45 near Jasper. State police said the car was driven by Sylvan Jahn, 18, Jasper, who was taken to Jasper Memorial hospital with injuries.

Fillmore Saw Fine Parade

The centennial parade in Fillmore Saturday afternoon was as fine as one will see any place. It wasn't as large as one staged in a larger place, but piece for piece, it was splendid.

First place in the parade and $25 went to the East Marion Home Demonstration club. Second place was won by the Bethel Church of East Marion township and third place went to the Fillmore Garden club.

The first place winner depicted an old time residence of 100 years ago. A smoke was coming from the chimney. It was said the fire was in a bucket, and when the wagon passed over the railroad, the bucket was overturned and by the time the vehicle reached the school house, the whole rear end of the truck and superstructure was afire. No damage was done, other than to cause some excitement.

Following the parade the crowd swarmed over the grounds and concessions behind the school house. Rain threatened, but it held off until nearly midnight and did not bother those on the grounds. Judges in the parade include Mrs. Mildred Mason Todd, Gene Hutchins and Mayor Evan Crawley.

EXTRA

Automobile and truck drivers were warned this afternoon to travel with extreme caution on all Putnam county roads as result of the cloudburst Saturday night and early Sunday morning.

Conard Shinn, highway supervisor, said many of the roads are washed out and several bridges are also out. On some roads, one-way traffic is being enforced.

INDIANAPOLIS, June 23.—(INS)—The Indiana Democratic headquarters announced at 1:19 p. m. today that Thomas W. Callahan, who had filed for a candidate as lieutenant governor at tomorrow's state convention, has switched to secretary of state.

WASHINGTON, June 23.—(UP)—Sen. Robert A. Taft today condemned what he called the "smeared tactics" used by some persons against Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower and California's Gov. Earl Warren.

Taft told a news conference he was "particularly disgusted" by a piece of campaign literature entitled "Headlines," written by Joseph P. Kamp, executive vice chairman of the Constitutional Educational League, Inc., and distributed to the Maryland GOP delegation.

Asked if any Taft organization funds had been used to finance such attacks on his two rivals for the GOP Presidential nomination, the Ohio Republican snapped: "Certainly not."

SEOUL, June 23.—(INS)—More than 500 American Navy, Air Force and Marine warplanes shattered five key North Korean power plants today in the biggest raid of the Korean war.

Smashed in the attacks were the gigantic Suhoi plant on the south bank of the Yalu river—the world's fourth largest—and four others near the North Korea east coast in the vicinity of Hamhung.

They supplied 90 per cent of the North Korean Red power supply and some of the power used by Red bases in Manchuria. The devastating attack on the Suhoi plant, possibly the closest to Manchuria during the two-year-old Korean war, was made within sight of the Communist air base at Antung on the Manchurian side of the Yalu.

Some 208 Red jet planes were sighted at Antung but made no attempt to interfere with the allied raid.

Wave after wave of the Allied planes hurled thousands of pounds of armor-piercing and high-explosive bombs into the power plants and then rocketed and machine-gunned the targets.

RUSS RELEASE 40 KIDNAPED WEST GERMANS

BORDER RAID INTO BRITISH ZONE WAS STAGED ON SUNDAY

BERLIN, June 23 (UP)—Soviet troops and East German police today released 40 West German workers whom they had kidnaped in a border raid into the British zone of Germany on Sunday.

At the same time, the Soviets and East Germans withdrew from a 1,000-yard-deep strip of British zone territory which they had seized last week near the kidnaping scene at Schoeningen, due west of Berlin.

The withdrawing Reds took with them the frontier posts they had planted 1,000 yards inside the British zone in their territorial grab. They replanted the posts along the zonal border established by the Big Four in 1945. West German police immediately reoccupied the evacuated terrain.

Release of the 40 kidnaped workers was announced by West German border police at Schoeningen. They said the men were brought to the frontier and freed about 2 a. m.

The workers said they had been taken to the Marienborn Soviet zone frontier station facing Helmstedt. They said they were well treated and were not questioned by either the Russians or the East German police.

Two Soviet soldiers and 30 East German Communist police had seized the 40 workers at gunpoint. Ten other workers eluded the Reds and escaped in a hail of Communist bullets.

The bride is the granddaughter of Mrs. C. N. McWethy of Greencastle and Mr. and Mrs. Jesse McCoy of Cloverdale. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Thomas Drake of Bronxville, New York.

The bride given in marriage by her father, approached the chancel which was decorated with arrangements of white gladioli, ferns, palms, and candelabra. The altar was decorated with white asters and delphinium. Miss Virginia Arnold, organist, played bridal music and Chaplain Major Chester G. Minton of Fort Benning, Ga., read the vows. He is a former rector of St. Andrew's Episcopal church.

She wore her mother's heirloom veil of Brussels lace bordered in rosepoint and a coronet of rosepoint. Her flowers were a cascade bouquet of eucharis, stephanotis, and ivy.

Mrs. Wayne Charles Trapp of Indianapolis, Ind., cousin of the bride, was the matron of honor. Her gown was fashioned with a full net skirt, a yellow lace bodice and she wore a matching stole with flowers of white asters, yellow roses, and her headband was of yellow roses.

Robert Senkfor, of Cleveland, Ohio, was the best man. Ushers were Horace Adams, Mooresville; and Henry Youngblood, Danville, both cousins of the groom. Mrs. McCoy, the bride's mother, wore a gown of navy paper shantung, accessories of navy velvet and a corsage of red rosettes with a matching spray on her picture hat.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the DePauw Memorial Union building. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Adams of Martinsville, uncle and aunt of the groom, received with the bride party.

On the bride's table was the tiered cake topped with yellow roses, centered in smilax, with sprays of yellow gladioli at the corners of the table.

The young couple left by plane for Boston and will go to Cape Cod. The bride wore a dress of blue and white checked cotton tweed with a white pique top, matching tweed jacket and accessories of navy and cranberry red. Her corsage was of Amazon lilies and red carnations.

The bride, a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority at DePauw University, has completed her junior year.

The bridegroom was graduated from DePauw University in 1952 and is a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity.

Mr. and Mrs. Drake will be at home at Bronxville, New York. Out of town guests were:

FISHING FUN!

Yeah, I know we said the creek was in good condition for fishing, but what we meant was that there was plenty of water in the creek. Fishing was fouled up all over the county, as the rain made even the ponds a sorry looking mess. Bill Hartman stopped his cleaning work at the Water Works long enough to point out the spot where he had caught a nice string of fish the day before. It was about twenty feet under water at that time.

WHEN YOU TRY POWER STEERING... HERE'S WHERE TO COME FIRST

You've heard about it and read about it. Now, if you haven't felt what Power Steering does for you, we invite you to try it first in a Chrysler New Yorker... where you will find full-time (not partial) Power Steering!

What happens is this...

You handle the steering wheel in normal fashion. But 4/5 of all the work is done for you by hydraulic power, constantly at your command. Also, you turn the wheel 1/3 less distance now for every maneuver... the feeling you get of utter control is as wonderful as it is new.

Even at a standstill you can turn the wheel easily. Now, parking is shorn of its troubles (and fatigue!)... and you can negotiate traffic, awkward drives, and garage doors precisely and with ease.

You can double the longest day's drive you've ever known... end up free from arm shoulder strain. Rough roads, soft shoulders, snow, mud?... the power that helps steer now prevents the car's wheels from "steering back" at you. The course you hold, at any speed, till you want it changed. Yet, with this 5-times greater control, "feel" is always the same.

Why not come try it? Learn for yourself growing thousands of motorists say they never be without Full-time Power Steering from now on. Drive a Chrysler... and learn the Difference!

Looking At Life By Erich Brandeis

Should a WAC be discharged from the service because she had a baby?

Mrs. L. B. Thompson of East Orange, N. J. has put that question up to Congress to decide.

She claims that a woman should not be denied an opportunity to serve "solely because she performed the function for which our Creator intended her."

Mrs. Thompson served in the Women's Army Corps from 1942 to 1948 and then became an active member of the Organized Reserve Corps.

In 1951 she had a baby and, in conformity with army regulations, was discharged from the service. She wrote a letter to Assistant Secretary of Defense Anna M. Rosenberg, in which she said that "the woman who is to become a mother should be treated, as the men are, by regulations which recognize temporary absence from her duties. To do so is to recognize the basic function of women — not penalization therefor."

Mrs. Rosenberg replied in part: "It is true that a woman could fulfill her obligations as a member of the Organized Reserve without harm to her relationship with her children."

Now it's up to Congress.

If I were to decide the matter I would definitely say that a mother CANNOT fulfill her duties to her children and serve in the WAC as well.

Motherhood, in my opinion, is a full-time profession. How can anyone compare the duties of motherhood with the duties of a soldier who may be temporarily absent because of illness?

In the first place, men CANNOT become mothers.

In the second, the birth of a child is NOT an illness which, with a few medical treatments and a few doses of pills, can be cured.

The bringing into the world of a son or a daughter is the BEGINNING, not the end.

MOTHERHOOD in itself is service to one's country—it is service either for GOOD or for bad.

A mother who guides her son properly, who imbues him with the right principles, may produce another Washington, another Lincoln, another Eisenhower, another MacArthur.

A mother who fulfills her duty towards her daughter may give us another Florence Nightingale, another Ethel Barrymore, another Carrie Jacobs Bond.

Unfortunately, motherhood is being taken much too lightly these days.

Once upon a time it was taken as a consecrated profession.

Every great man, every famous woman in history was the product of a duty-conscious mother. Perhaps that is why there were so many great men and famous women in history.

Great men and famous women are NOT the products of baby-sitters but of devoted mothers to whom their children were the best expression of their patriotism.

I doubt whether the mother of a single congressman or senator was a major in the WAC or an Assistant Secretary of Defense.

Expert Coming
Here Again.

R. K. Shallenberger

Nationally known expert will personally demonstrate his method without charge at the Commercial Hotel, Greencastle Thursday, June 26th from 10 A. M. to 12 noon.

Mr. Shallenberger says the Shallenberger method contracts the openings in remarkably short time on the average case, regardless of the size or location of the rupture and no matter how much you lift or strain, and puts you back to work the same day as efficient as before you were ruptured.

The Shallenberger Rupture Shield has no leg strap; water proof, sanitary, practically indestructible and can be worn while bathing. Each shield is skillfully molded and fitted to the parts under heat, which gives a perfect fit and satisfaction.

Large and difficult ruptures following operations especially solicited.

Saturday and Sunday being off days, with no scores or other details of games to report, Monday will hereafter be devoted to the gathering of bits of information heard at the park and elsewhere by this reporter.

There will be a manager's meeting of all Fast League pilots at City Hall on Wednesday evening of this week. The topic for discussion is: Are three Cloverdale players, who live across the Morgan county line, eligible players in the Fast League. The rules say that participants in the softball project must either reside or work regularly in Putnam county. The men whose eligibility is at stake are John Sinclair, Gene Fidler and Robert Patterson, all three potent factors in the Cloverdale squads' success.

The manager of one of the best teams in the league has already privately stated that his vote will be cast for the continued instatement of the three in question.

The Odd Fellows are possibly receiving a new infielder, a man from Gary who works locally, and will most probably shift Ron McCammack from third to outfield, where he reportedly is at home. This sounds like a smart move on Manager Shinn's part. As of today, the IOOF ballhaws are clubbing a ferocious .167 among them.

Speaking of new ballplayers, Tom Davis is practically begging to join the Lone Star club. The Cement men better grab him. Tom batted close to .400 last year for the extinct Moose, and was the best clutch hitter at the park. His position is primarily shortstop or third base. By putting him at short, Lone Star could plug up the cavernous gap that extends from short to first base. Chuck Collins at third is the only adroit hitter and competent fielder of the entire infield, with the possible exception of John Braden, who should be catching regularly. Clyde Hedge, present catcher, would go to first, making far better use of his left-handed throwing.

Why doesn't some local merchant get on the stick and donate a "Bud Lemmick Memorial Award" to the man who leads the league in batting each year? Bud, as you remember, was one of the most popular players in past years, before he was killed in a tragic highway accident a few months ago. His five homers last year were enough to take honors in that department.

ANNOUNCING STEEL DEADLOCK

WOPPING HIS BROW, John A. Stephens, U. S. Steel vice president, presents management's views to reporters in Washington during pre-conference after John Steelman (next to Stephens), presidential assistant, announced, "I find the parties completely deadlocked." Beyond are Philip Murray, CIO and United Steelworkers president; Vince Sweeney (standing) of the union, and (far right) David McDonald, Steelworkers secretary-treasurer. Stephens said the "sole matter" remaining in dispute was the union shop. Murray said there are other issues, including wages. (International Soundphoto)

Inside WASHINGTON

MARCH OF EVENTS

No Steel Shortage;
General Price Drop

New Defense Plant
Building Past Peak

Special to Central Press

WASHINGTON—Out of the steel crisis—government seizure, wage demands of the union and the strike threat—one fact has been established: There's no shortage of steel.

An actual surplus has developed in some types and prices in general are dropping all along the line. Some of this is due to gray market operators dumping their stocks, but the other more basic reasons may indicate a coming change in the picture.

Steel Mill

Construction of defense plants has nearly passed its peak and producers of durable goods are not so anxious to get full quotas since supplies are easier to get. The brief steel strike, before the courts intervened, cost two and one-half million tons of production but there was still an excess.

● ARE PRIMARIES EYEWASH?—Early this year, President Truman referred to state presidential primaries as "a lot of eyewash," and results of Democratic party contests thus far indicate he was not far from the truth.

Senator Estes Kefauver of Tennessee has won an overwhelming majority of the preferential contests but his delegate total is far short of a majority, and it is very doubtful if he will lead on the first ballot despite a wide field. In fact, if Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois would consent to a draft, most Democrats believe he could have the nomination.

If Stevenson still says no, its anybody's race, but the decision will be made at the Chicago convention and not in the primaries.

On the Republican side, the balloting has been more significant and Harold E. Stassen perhaps wishes the primaries were "just eyewash." However, there have been few clear-cut contests between front-runners Senator Robert A. Taft and Gen. Dwight Eisenhower. This decision, too, will be made at the party convention in Chicago. Although both men have proved good vote-getters in states where they ran.

● TIDELANDS—Senate leaders have advised President Truman that in their opinion the Senate will sustain his almost certain veto of the Tidelands bill. Supporters of the bill publicly express the belief that the presidential veto will be overridden but privately admit doubts as to the outcome of the bitter Tidelands fight.

The bill would turn over the oil-rich underwater lands off the coast of the United States to the individual states involved. Estimates of the value of the oil run from $40 billion to $100 billion. Mr. Truman favors federal control and administration of these lands.

The House passed the measure with enough votes to override a veto but the bill went through the Senate by only a 50 to 35 vote. The President agreed to give congressional leaders two days' notice before he returns the bill without his signature. The Senate will vote on the veto before the House.

● WHAT'S YOUR NAME?—When the armed forces go before Congress to ask for appropriations they send their best men—and lots of them. This can create confusion, and it did in the House appropriations committee recently. Especially when the Pentagon representative answers only the questions put to him and nothing more. The Pentagon expert in this case was Col. O. McCormick, Chief of Information for the Army's Troop Information and Education Division. He had been testifying for almost half an hour when a member of the committee asked: "Are you Colonel Smigelow?" McCormick answered "No sir." He was then asked "Are you General Christenberry?" Again the colonel answered "No." Then he was asked "Are you Colonel Isaacs?" Again "No." But this time, McCormick decided to tell the committeeman his name, and the hearing proceeded.

Long Way Around To An Answer

Where are the hitters this year? In checking over the dusty scorebooks from last year's race, this reporter discovered that team and individual averages alike are from thirty to fifty points lower. It would be a pitcher's paradise, except that this year, when a ball is hit to one of his mates, the hurler can bet on something like a fifty-fifty chance that the defense will boot it. Fielding too, is off.

The 6 1/2 inch rainfall that flooded Greencastle early Sunday morning will not get out of the mind of Monday's batters more than yesterday. The field drainage, and the clear of water at yesterday, fire record-shattering.

What's in it for You?

The trucking industry and its part in our everyday form of living is generally considered an accepted fact.

Yet, if the trucking industry should vanish overnight the flow of commerce would be paralyzed. The farming industry would be faced with enormous losses in spoilage of produce for lack of fast, efficient transportation, and also in inability to take advantage of current market conditions.

Farming and the food industry are the largest users of trucks. Use of trucks in agriculture has increased 60% since 1941. In Indiana, there are over 60,000 trucks in use on farms. That is one-fourth of all motor trucks registered in the state.

An average of the four major livestock markets in Indiana shows that 99 4/10% of all livestock received in these major markets arrived by truck. Figures on other farm produce are consistently as high; for instance, 97% of all milk arrives at dairy by truck according to Department of Agriculture statistics.

What's in it for you?

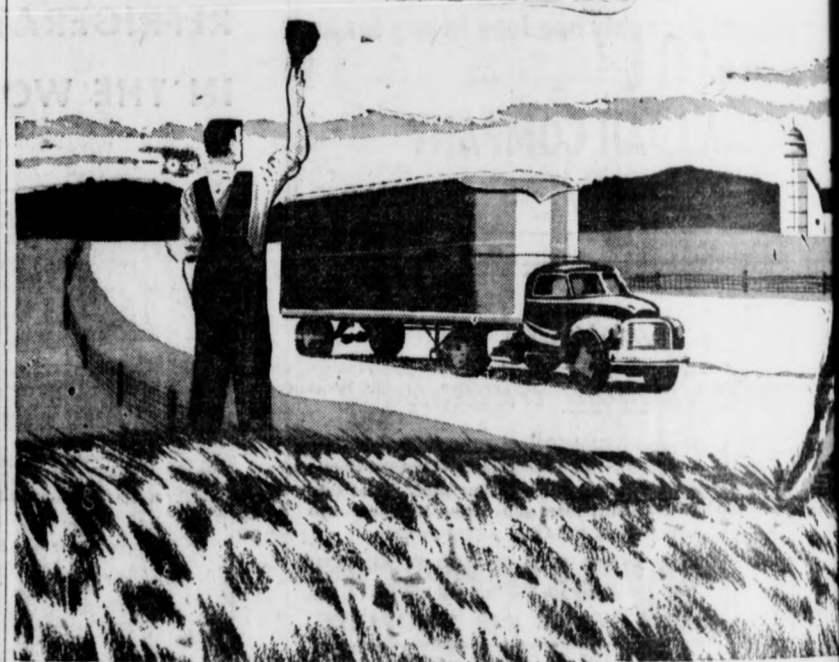

The answer is that a truck, to you farmer, means the opportunity to sell sometimes even to buy, at your choice the markets and at the time you choose means a higher margin of profit, a rapid movement of produce, and advantages never before available to the farming industry.

Remember, the next time you see a truck on the road ... everything you eat ... thing you wear ... in fact, everything you use ... comes all or part of the way by truck.

All Mrs. Keen had to do now was to lay down the ace, king and another club. Mr. Muzzy won the third round with the queen and the defenders then collected two more heart tricks. But after that they were through.

If Mr. Muzzy had held all his clubs, the contract would have been hopeless. Signals are valuable, but they're no good when they lose a trick.

raigned today on embezzlement charges after he told Federal agents that $38,224 he allegedly stole went for women and high living.

Martin Gilbert Olsen, 37, admitted to the FBI when he was arrested here Saturday that he went to lunch with the bank funds in New York last January and "just kept going."

Olsen, father of two children, was arrested as he searched for some of the stolen funds he had hidden here, special FBI agent C. H. Carson said.

Carson said Olsen will be returned to New York for trial. The FBI said Olsen admitted taking the money out of the Chemical Bank and Trust Co., in a paper bag.

He told bank officials he was going to lunch with his wife, but instead he began a tour which took him to Baltimore, Md., Chicago, San Francisco, and Los Angeles.

Bank officials examined the accounts after Olsen was an hour overdue and discovered the reserve cash was missing.

Olsen, who was living under the assumed name of Paul Joseph Bower, had $7,113 of the stolen money on him at the time of his arrest, the FBI said.

Federal officers said he admitted he has an additional $22,000 of the funds hidden across the country. He told investigators where it could be found.

WHO USED HOW MUCH OF THE ELECTRICITY PROVIDED BY THE ELECTRIC COMPANIES OF INDIANA DURING 1951 Compared to 1941?

In 1941
4,577,744,870
KILOWATT HOURS
Were "Ordered"
like this:

In 1951
9,536,280,497
KILOWATT HOURS
like this:

● In 1951, 9½ billion kilowatt-hours of electricity were "ordered" by those we serve, compared to 4½ billion ordered during 1941. Every year, no matter how much electric power was ordered, it was delivered on schedule. It is the responsibility of the Electric Companies of Indiana to have enough electric power available, when and where wanted, for everybody we serve.

The work being done by all Indiana electric users, large or small, is vitally important to the progress and welfare of our State. No Indiana electric user has ever been short of power. We are investing over $704,000,000 from 1941 through 1954 to extend our facilities, and we will continue to extend them beyond that date as needed to make certain there will be plenty of electric power in the future for those we serve.

Indiana-a POWER-FULL State

Over 95% of Indiana farms have dependable low-cost electric service today. About 48% of them are served by the Electric Companies of Indiana and about 52% by the REMCs which buy their power at wholesale from the Electric Companies.
